More about the founder & principal faculty: Ruben Solis has been working to advance people's liberation movements for over 40 years. Ruben co-founded the Southwest Workers' Union in 1981 in San Antonio, and two decades later, SWU is one of the most significant examples of community labor organizing, racial justice work, and environmental justice organizing in the country. Ruben was part of the founding group national & regional alliances as well as the Colegio Jacinto Trevino in 1970, a Chican@ Freedom School in the Rio Grande valley. In 2011, Ruben founded the University Sin Fronteras to respond to the critical need for advanced social movement study based in practice, history, and theory.
